Trip to Bike Trail or Knollwood Students

Students participating in the 2005 Knollwood Elementary School summer program received a special treat during their final week.

Communities In Schools of Atlanta DeKalb Field Supervisor, Ron Price, took more than fifty students to ride bicycles on a bike trail in Cobb County. For a number of students this was their first time riding a bike.

“We wanted to get them out, get them active, and expose them to something they had probably never done before,” said Mr. Price, an avid bike rider. “The kids caught on fast and had a great time.”

After their adventure, the students were treated to lunch at Ci-Ci’s Pizza. Other field trips during the Knollwood summer program included stops at the Yellow River Game Ranch, Zoo Atlanta, Story Tellers Horse Park in Newborn, GA, and the Coca Cola Museum.
